The final decision to issue you a study permit and allow you to enter Canada is made after an examination by an officer in Canada. At that time, an officer will assess if you still meet the requirements of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, its Regulations and any other Canadian legislation.

- United States citizens are not required to obtain an eTA or TRV. However, you must provide proof of your status in the United States on entry to Canada. This letter is not a passport or travel document. You will not be allowed to board your flight without your passport, even if you have this letter with you.
Do not pack these or other valuable papers in your checked luggage. Find out more about which documents you will need to bring with you by visiting: Study permit: Prepare for arrival (https://www.canada.ca/en/immigration-refugees-citizenship/services/study-canada/study-permit/prepare-arrival.html).

Note: As an international student in Canada, it is your responsibility to ensure that you continue to meet the conditions of your study permit, including the requirement to actively pursue studies. For more information, please consult: http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/index.asp.

Immigration medical examination: You must have a valid immigration medical examination (IME) (https://www.canada.ca/en/immigration-refugees-citizenship/services/application/medical-police/medical-exams/requirements-temporary-residents.html), if required.
